GLOBAL HEALTH

2018-2019 Annual Report

Dear Timmy Global Health Supporter,

I can't tell you how proud I am of the work we do at Timmy Global Health. The passion from our staff, partners, donors, and volunteers is contagious. Each day, in 12 communities across five countries, our team wakes up focused on empowering local communities to address health disparities in a sustainable way.

Over the past year, Timmy has continued to make strides to best serve our patients and communities. In just one year, we have:

- Refocused our core values and created strategic anchors that guide our decision making and the work we do.
- Invested in organizational impact by hiring a monitoring and evaluation manager in the field.
- Hired a full-time staff at HQ that's exclusively focused on designing and measuring the impact we have on all of our stakeholders and communities.

As we go forward, we will continue to invest heavily in public health, education, and prevention work, moving upstream to address the root cause of many of the diseases that we have treated for so long. Most importantly, we will keep our partners and communities centered in the work we do. By finding ways to support local doctors and medical students; growing our economic impact locally; and evaluating the impact our decisions have on our partners, patients, and communities, we can ensure that the work we do from the United States has a positive, sustainable impact wherever we serve.

Thank you for your continued support of Timmy Global Health. Our team will continue to strive to be the best steward of our resources while remaining dedicated to building a healthier world through a community of global leaders.

—Nick Reich // Executive Director

Our Values

Humility

We approach our work with humility and understand our role in the process of international development.

Respect

We respect the people, traditions, and resources of each community we serve, valuing local expertise and appreciating the differences and opinions of all partners.

Empowerment

We are bold in our desire to empower communities, yet adaptable in our approach to drive lasting change.

Sustainability

We are committed to using sustainable methods and resources in order to prioritize the health of people and planet.

Our Mission:

To empower communities to address health disparities in a sustainable way

Our Vision:

To build a healthier world through a community of global leaders

Strategic Anchors: Our Beliefs

Community-Centered

We believe that responsible community development is responsive to the expressed needs and desires of the communities we serve with respect to local customs, cultures, and laws.

Impact-Driven

We believe that through strong efforts in monitoring and evaluation, we can improve the health outcomes of our patients and communities.

Local Empowerment

We believe that our work must enable growth and long-term viability for our local partners and systems.

Global Engagement

We believe that engaging a community of global leaders in our efforts to eliminate health disparities leads to a more connected, vibrant, and healthier world.

Our Impact

Timmy believes that working side by side our long term partners and communities' members has a profound impact on health outcomes and the development of global health leaders. We strive for communities to hold and utilize the knowledge, tools, and resources to independently prevent illness, seek care when needed, and promote their health as a positive resource.

Through our continuity-of-care model, we work within the same communities for extended periods of time, partnering staff with local organizations and ministries of health. We strive to responsibly and ethically meet the health needs of our patients and communities by activating the resources of our global community (from volunteers to donors to partners) to provide mobile clinics, advocacy, and community-led health education focused on illness prevention, health promotion, and healthcare system navigation.

Our Student Chapters

Timmy Chapter members are foundational to the success of Timmy Global Health. With chapters all over the United States, this diverse collection of college students work within our three pillars of local service, fundraising, and global health advocacy to focus their impact.

Our members have found that Timmy Chapters are so much more than week-long medical service trips. They entail a year-round commitment in addressing health disparities both locally and globally. Through local service opportunities, students meet the needs in their immediate surroundings. Fundraising efforts support referral care in our partner communities, which is a critical component of our continuity-of-care model. Plus, global health advocacy allows students to raise their voices on underlying issues impacting their communities and those of their partners.

At Timmy, we are continuing to standardize the chapter model to ensure program fidelity while inviting members to think deeper on what it means to address healthcare disparities with the resources they have access to. The total number of college chapters is growing throughout the country, and we are excited to add more students to the Timmy family of global health leaders.

“ In the case of Latin American countries, where social disparity is very large, every effort to help increase access to primary healthcare is tremendously valuable. This is what Timmy does with each medical service trip.

At the same time, there is an intercultural exchange where people from different countries and different places can learn about their similarities. This is what makes the world seem smaller—to know that there are more similarities than differences among humans.
